Program Options:

John Wells' author visit can be brought to your school in one of two ways:

♦ Option 1: 5-Day Book Sale.

> 3-5 days before the visit, the school is required to send home a letter (provided in the links) informing students, parents, and guardians about the purpose of the visit, the books, and how they can purchase a copy for a signing after the presentation.
>
> After the visit, the school must host a book sale, allowing students to order books for a minimum of 5 school days (and up to 10 school days) after the presentation. Books will be sent to the school upon submission of the Post Show order form included in the program links.
>
> Note: There is absolutely no requirement for any student to buy a book; however, allowing parents/guardians and their students the opportunity to purchase if they want makes it possible for this program to remain free for schools.

♦ Option 2) Literary Enrichment Package.

> Many school administrators opt for the Literary Enrichment Package, a choice that allows them to acquire books for specific classes, entire grade levels, or even as part of a school-wide reading initiative. This approach has consistently demonstrated significant educational impact on the student body. When your school chooses to make a bulk order of books in advance, John will coordinate the logistics to ensure the timely delivery of the books for the scheduled presentation and signing.
>
> Furthermore, the Literary Enrichment Package includes a tailored presentation that goes beyond the narrative, enhancing your ELA (English Language Arts) curriculum by providing valuable tools. This encompasses a structured introduction to characters, settings, themes, and elements of a story, serving as a scaffold for deeper exploration in classroom instruction. Educators can seamlessly integrate these elements into their lessons, allowing for an enriched and immersive literary experience for students.
>
> Note: For this option, a minimum number of books will be required and adjusted based on the school size.
